DIARY NOTES

DD/S

W JH

8 June 1964

1. At the Executive Committee Meeting this morning:

a. The Director speculated that there is great potential for real trouble in the Congo and that very soon we might find ourselves as busily engaged with activities there as we are now in Southeast Asia.

b. There was also a brief discussion of the two books, The Bay of Pigs and The Invisible Government, mostly the latter. Paul Chretien said that he had been approached by one or two people who wanted to write a "good book" about the CIA but that he had discouraged them. The Director said that he wasn't sure this decision was correct and that he would like those of us around the table to give more serious thought to this matter.

on duty have a college education, he was rather surprised to learn that a very small percentage of the junior people are so educated. I told him that this also concerned me very much, that I was pleased he was thinking about and working on the problem, and that I would be interested in discussing his proposed solution at some later date.

c. [REDACTED] said that [REDACTED] had been to see him to request that [REDACTED] tour at [REDACTED] be extended. [REDACTED] and I agreed that we would not approve of such an extension, certainly not at this time.
